We are pleased to report that Econometrics will launch its second “Best Paper Award” this year for the papers published between 1 January 2016 and 31 December 2017. The aim of the award is to acknowledge authors’ continued support and recognize their outstanding scientific publications in our journal over the last two years.

An Econometrics Award Advisory Board (in brief, the EAAB) comprised members of the Editorial Board of Econometrics and invited senior econometricians will be established to evaluate the papers. After a thorough evaluation by the EAAB, one paper will receive the award.
