Environmentally Friendly Bio-Based Polymeric Materials

Edited by: Ana-Maria Manea-Saghin

This Reprint brings together several valuable papers that were published in the Special Issue “Environmentally Friendly Bio-Based Polymeric Materials” of the prestigious journal Polymers. It represents a collection of articles and reviews addressing key themes related to environmentally friendly polymeric materials. The main topics of this Reprint are as follows:

- Eco-friendly materials—related results and applications;
- Polymers of biological origin—synthesis and characterization.

This Reprint is expected to make a meaningful contribution to the existing scientific literature in the field.
