State-of-the-Art Membrane Science and Technology in the Iberian Peninsula 2021-2022

Edited by: Isabel Coelho, Clara Casado-Coterillo, Diogo Miguel Franco dos Santos, José Ignacio Calvo, Liliana C. Tomé and Svetlozar Velizarov

This Reprint comprises the papers published in a Special Issue of the Membranes journal, titled “State of the Art Membrane Science and Technology in the Iberian Peninsula 2021–2022”. The Issue arises from the need to highlight the developments in the field of membrane research and membrane processes that have been emerging in recent years by researchers and research groups based in the Iberian Peninsula.

The Reprint contains 14 original research articles plus two reviews, each of these focusing on the perspective of one country (Spain or Portugal) but adding to the historical perspective of the beginning of membrane technology in each country.
