Message from the Editor-in-Chief

“Microorganism” merges the idea of the very small with the idea of the evolving reproducing organism is a unifying principle for the discipline of microbiology. Our journal recognizes the broadly diverse yet connected nature of microorganisms and provides an advanced publishing forum for original articles from scientists involved in high-quality basic and applied research on any prokaryotic or eukaryotic microorganism, and for research on the ecology, genomics and evolution of microbial communities as well as that exploring cultured microorganisms in the laboratory.

Editor-in-Chief

Dr. Nico Jehmlich

Aims

Microorganisms publishes original research, reviews, short communications, and commentaries. It aims to provide a broad forum for research discoveries involving all types of microorganisms and microbial communities, as well as diverse scientific methods used in their studies.

Scope

- Bacterial, archaeal and eukaryotic cellular microorganisms, and non-cellular transmissible agents such as viruses and prions
- Microbial ecology of environmental microbial communities
- Microbial diversity including molecular diversity and metagenomics
- Microbial physiology and biochemistry
- Applied microbiology and biotechnology
- Microbial genetics
- Medical and pharmaceutical microbiology
- Evolutionary microbiology
- Industrial microbiology
- Agricultural microbiology
- Food microbiology

Author Benefits

Open Access

Unlimited and free access for readers

No Copyright Constraints

Retain copyright of your work and free use of your article
