Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Psychiatry International (ISSN 2673-5318) was released in September 2020, and was accepted by both ESCI (web of Science) and Scopus in 2023.

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Psychiatry International, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to psychiatric research and practice. The journal publishes original articles, critical reviews, research notes, and short communications. I am confident that you will find the journal offers significant contributions to interdisciplinary research—encompassing biological, clinical, medical, social, and psychological approaches that aims at improving the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of mental, emotional, or behavioral disorders.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Paolo Girardi

Aims

Psychiatry International is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal that publishes original articles, reviews, and communications in all areas of clinical psychiatry and biological psychiatry, also related to aspects of clinical and dynamic psychology. Besides this, the contribution of psychotherapies and dynamic and clinical psychology appears to be indispensable for a complete understanding of the clinical and personological aspects of patients. Our journal aims to include innovative studies deriving from original, clinical, and basic research in the fields of mental health, precision psychiatry, genomics, neuroimaging, neuropsychopharmacology, and dynamic and clinical psychology.
