Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Biologics is an international, multidisciplinary, peer-reviewed, and scientific open access, open source journal that encourages authors to submit high-quality papers in all areas of biologics derived from both novel and established biotechnologies. We invite you to contribute original research articles, review articles, perspectives or case reports for consideration and publication in the journal. Rapid turnaround time and full open access offer the opportunity to make research results immediately available to scientific communities and the general public.

Editor-in-Chief
Prof. Dr. Gary McLean

Aims

Biologics (ISSN 2673-8449) provides an advanced forum for findings on all aspects of biologics derived from both novel and established biotechnologies. It publishes reviews, research papers, and communications in all areas of biologicals and at the interface of related disciplines. Our aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical results in as much detail as possible. There is no restriction on the maximum length of the papers. Full experimental and/or methodical details must be provided so that the results can be reproduced. Electronic files or software regarding the full details of the calculation and experimental procedure – if impossible to publish in a normal way – can be deposited as supplementary material.

Scope

Biologics are products of living systems. This journal addresses all aspects of the therapeutic use of biologics, as well as companion diagnostics meant to determine patients most likely to benefit from these agents. Biologics include synthetic products that are chemically similar to the natural product, such as modified recombinant proteins.
